

Rhonda is the founder and CEO of one of the top global PR and branding firms. She works with CEOs, authors, and conscious entrepreneurs to grow their personal and professional brands. After spending 15 years working in PR and marketing for multimillion-dollar brands and startups, Rhonda is disrupting the industry and helping her clients get featured in Top Tier Publications. In addition to her extensive PR and marketing experience, Rhonda is a trained business coach and holds an MBA in Business & Marketing.

Rhonda has landed coverage in print and broadcast outlets around the world, being featured in FORBES, Entrepreneur, INC. Success, Business Insider, ABC, CBS, NBC and CNN, Thrive Global, Medium & Buzz-Feed.

Her dedication to supporting other female business owners led her to found a movement dedicated to helping women rise all over the world. The „Women Gone Wild“ series has become a best-seller in multiple categories worldwide, including billboards on Times Square in NYC.

Besides Rhonda's own show „The Rhonda Swan Show“ where she interviews thought-leaders and entrepreneurs, she is also hosting the „Unstoppable Show“ with New to the Street Media, which is broadcast on national TV to an audience of 300 million households.

Rhonda Swan is the mother to 15 year old Hanalei, wife to the Unstoppable Surfer and world traveler for the last 13 years with her family currently living in Bali, Indonesia.